

Here We Grow Again!

Help Support the Children's Room Renovation Campaign

The Children's Room is poised to time travel from 1898 to 2004. The Here We Grow Again Campaign will raise the necessary funds to renovate and modernize the Children's Room. The revamped floor plan has expanded book and periodical accommodations, better designed computer stations, easier wheelchair accessibility, and a separate work-station for the Children's Librarian.

For your public library's sake, please support the Here We Grow Again Campaign.

Book Shelving

Replacing the oversized 1890's dark bookshelves with white 5 foot tall shelving will allow more natural light into the children's room.

Display areas

tops of book shelves are heavy laminate which can be used for displaying new books or children's projects.

Children's Librarian work station

An area specifically designed to move some of the Children's Librarian tasks out from behind the busy circulation desk area.

Carpeting

Replaced with heavy weight, high traffic, 100% nylon carpeting.

State Street side

Energy efficient storm windows

2 Computer Stations
DSL internet enabled computers for faster research

Baseboard heating
Separately zoned baseboard heating to replace out-dated cast iron steam radiators.

Entry Way

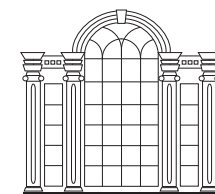

Periodical Shelving
Up-to-date storage for up-to-date periodicals and magazines

Wheel chair Accessible Isles
Re-designed shelf spacing to accommodate handicapped children and adults.

Book Shelves

New white metal shelving made for oversized children's books. Trimmed with oak, the shelves blend in beautifully with the 1991 addition. The shelving ends can be used for posters, displays, up-coming library events, etc.
